Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

He said to him, "See that you tell no one anything, but go, show yourself to the priest and offer for your cleansing what Moses prescribed; that will be proof for them." The man went away and began to publicize the whole matter. He spread the report abroad so that it was impossible for Jesus to enter a town openly.

Love Without Measure...

The prophets give us a profound witness to the power of prayer. The prophet Elijah is the chief among the holy group, which is why he is so highlighted in the Catechism of the Catholic Church, but each of the prophets give their own unique expression and testimony to prayer.

Whether it's the temple prophet Ezekiel and the accounts he shares of his mystical visions, or the laments of the prophet Jeremiah, or the messianic insights of Isaiah, or the prayers of Daniel or any of the minor prophets, each prophet chosen and sent by God – drew closer to God and his covenant. Each prophet reveals to us a different dimension of prayer and gives us a variation on how to pray.

From their personal and vital relationships with God, the prophets were able to do the work of God. Before they were heralds, defenders and protectors, they were intercessors and people of prayer. The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches us: In their one to one' encounters with God, the prophets draw light and strength for their mission.

By drinking from the fount of communion with God and speaking and listening to him with open hearts, the prophets were able to do whatever God asked of them. They were able to hear him, understand his commands, imitate what he asked, persevere in the work at hand, and give praises to him in all their actions.

The prayer of the prophets was not self-serving, or somewhere in the clouds. It was not confined to their own hearts. It did not involve a doom and gloom perspective that abandoned the world. The prayer of the prophets summoned and compelled them to be in the world, to bring light and truth to it. To give and teach humanity love and to labor and suffer for what is good and noble.

The prophet's vocation is to enter into the miseries and suffering of the human family. No prophet can be indifferent or apathetic to the hurts and sorrows of our fallen world. The Catechism explains: The prayer of the prophets is not flight from this messy and unfaithful world but rather attentiveness to the Word of God."

The prophets cling to God and his living Word They speak and listen to him. From this exchange, the prophets nurture hope and are constantly engaged in the life of the world.

Such a vocation is demanding. Sometimes it will include success and the triumph that will accompany it, but most often it will include disappointments, backsliding, heartaches, brokenness and desolation. The trenches of fallen world are not for the fainthearted. Prophets who walk these trenches must be strong of heart and gentle of hand. Such a way of life can only be sustained and nourished by robust prayer, an open and transparent conversation with God.

The prophets do not hide between false piety, empty devotion, or lip service. The prophets speak openly with God, argue with him, wrestle with him, and express the thoughts and feelings of their innermost heart to him. The prophets speak and then they pause and listen.

After disclosing their whole hearts to God, the prophets listen to him and offer intercession for his people. The prayer of the prophets expresses an eager longing for peace and restoration. Their prayers manifest a heartfelt desire for mercy and reconciliation. The prophets discern the messianic mission and await its fulfillment.

The Catechism gives this observation: At times the prayers of the prophets is an argument or a complaint, but it is always an intercession that awaits and prepares for the intervention of the Savior God, the Lord of History.

In these ways, the prophets teach us the importance of personal prayer, a prayer that holds nothing back, but is transparent before God. It is a prayer that touches the core of who we are and then cries out to God before us. The prophetic summons to prayer is a lamentation from the sufferings and sorrows of life. It carries and announces the afflictions of humanity and then waits and yearns for his response.

The prophets instruct us on how to grieve and spiritually bemoan the brokenness of our world. Such a posture of prayer also challenges and compels us to take action. The prophets pour out their hearts before God and then use their wounded hearts to build bridges of compassion and loving service to others. This is the life of prayer lived and modeled by the holy prophets. It's the life of prayer that every Christian – who was anointed a prophet at their baptism – is called to live in the midst of the world today.

The season of Lent that begins this Wednesday invites us to prayer, fasting and acts of charity. Perhaps this Lent we could focus on prayer as we seek to be renewed in mind and heart as we prepare to renew the vows of our baptism and celebrate the Easter mysteries with renewed faith.

Fr. Bill

Around the Parish & Events

Today is World Day of the Sick

February 11th is World Day of the Sick, an observation started by St. John Paul II as a way for believers to offer prayers for those suffering from illnesses.

Merciful God, you care for your people with the strength of a father and the tenderness of a mother; and you desire to give us new life in the Holy Spirit. You sent Jesus your Son as Savior of all people; he proclaimed the gospel of the Kingdom and healed those who suffered from illness and disease. We ask you to send the grace of your Son to us now, that he may bring healing and hope to all who suffer with infirmity and sickness. Send the Holy Spirit to impart that new life which comes from Jesus your Son, through the power of his death and resurrection. May the same life-giving Spirit sustain and enlighten all who care for the sick and infirm, and all who seek cures for the diseases that afflict our human condition. Through Christ, our Healer and Lord. Amen.

Immediately following Mass this weekend you are invited to come forward and receive the Sacrament of the Sick.

Welcomed Change

Ash Wednesday is a few days away and the change of liturgical seasons is another way we are reminded on how fast time passes. The Season of Lent is an important moment in our life of faith in which we are asked how we are using the gift of time that is ours. Taking on the ashes of repentance is a public sign embraced by many declaring our willingness to turn from our sin and be faithful to the gospel. I am now in my 47th years in ministry and one thing I am sure about- In those many years, in my various assignments, we have never run out of ashes. In a simple but public way we are reminded that we are always in need of conversion and growth as baptized Christians no matter where we are along the journey.

We live out this journey of faith as part of our faith community that we call Church. Baptism and the sacramental life of the Church joins the Gospel in reminding us of this critical fact that identifies us as the People of God.

We live out our life of faith as part of the church within a faith community we call parish. Saint Augustine is a dynamic parish with a long history of faithful service grounded in the Gospel that empowers us and Baptism that commission us to be conformed to Christ by our service to the poor and those living on the margins.

Our parish lives out the gospel mandate in a variety of ways that demand our faith, our time and our personal talents and skills. Parish leadership is that group of men and women that give direction to our mission, who call forth, train and coordinate our ministries. They are a critical piece of our life together in faith in service to those in need.

With this in mind, Saint Augustine is happy to welcome Anthony Camino to our parish staff as Pastoral Associate for Community Outreach.

Anthony Camino comes to us from St. Noel parish where he served for 23 years. He is an experienced minister having worked in the areas of social justice & outreach, adult education, youth ministry, bereavement ministry, pastoral care, and music ministry. He has also served as a campus ministry and a theology teacher. Anthony has a heart for social justice and working with those on the margins.

He has fond memories of living and working at Saint Malachi Church as well as working at the West Side Catholic Center right after college. He spent a year living on West 14th street! Anthony is married to Laura, and they have one son who is in his first year of college. He is excited to join our staff.

And so are we. Welcome Anthony!

Movie Night

We will have a movie night on Thursday, February 29th at 6:00 pm in Walsh Hall featuring Ruby Bridges.

Ruby Bridges is based on the true story of Ruby Bridges, one of the first black students to attend integrated schools in New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1960. As a six-year-old, Bridges was one of four black first graders, selected on the basis of test scores, to attend previously all-white public schools in New Orleans. Three students were sent to McDonogh No. 19 Elementary School, and Ruby was the only black child to be sent to William Frantz Elementary School.

This film reminds us how the NAACP chose her; how four US Marshalls kept back the angry mob bent on lynching her; how a courageous white teacher pushed back against racist superiors and coworkers; and most of all, how her courageous mother, shared the deep faith that gave Ruby the strength to persist in spite of the hatred around her.

Parish Calendar and Events

This week at St. Augustine

Ash Wednesday- February 14th

On this first day of Lent, we are reminded of our fallen nature; that we are fallible human beings who have made wrong choices that hurt us and others in our life. Yet we are not without hope, because the grace of God gives us a second chance to reform.

This is symbolized by the ashes that will be imposed on us with the words, "Repent and believe the good news," or "Remember you are dust and to dust you shall return."

Our Mass schedule for Ash Wednesday will be 10 am (live-streamed) and 5:30 pm (both Masses will be interpreted for the Deaf).
