Love Without Measure...

The Holy Family was a refugee family. There is little doubt about this. We hear in the gospel for the Feast of Holy Family that King Herod was determined to kill the Christ Child. So, an angel appeared to Joseph in a dream and told him to flee to Egypt with Mary and the child. Joseph does so and remained in Egypt until the death of Herod. This means that the first year of Jesus' life, he was forced to flee his own country because of political oppression. What would have happened if the Holy Family had been turned away from the border in Egypt and sent back to Herod? Would Herod have been successful in his desire to kill Jesus before he could begin his ministry and win our salvation? Of course, we do not know the answer to that question. But we should always be grateful to the Egyptians as we ponder the Christmas story for protecting the Holy Family.

As we celebrate this holy season, I wish I could tell you that there is no longer any need for people to flee their own country. But we all know that is not true, in fact, the plight of refugees is greater than it has been for centuries. In our world today there are nearly 85 million people who have been displaced from their homes because of war or crisis. This is the largest number of displaced persons since the Second World War. Over half of that number of people who are fleeing the war in Ukraine, combat in Syria, southern Sudan and many countries of Central and South America. They like the Holy Family are fleeing political violence in an effort to save themselves and their families.

This harsh and tragic reality brushes up against our lives during the Christmas Season as we seek to be of help to Ukrainian refugees. Last year, on Christmas Eve I spoke with an older Ukrainian lady making her way through the snow and blistering cold from our cupboard, closet and Christmas Present Center with bags filled for her family. She recently arrived with children as she left her husband behind to fight. She also told me that the weather was much more difficult at home than in Cleveland. As she walked away she said, "Thank you, Thank you, Thank you."

One might ask and I am sure some are, "Why are you bringing up these horrible statistics to our attention now?" The lights are still on the Christmas trees! The poinsettias have not yet begun to wilt, and you are talking to us about refugees. I am. I am doing so because I want to keep Christ in Christmas. The Christmas Season is more than exchanging gift and gathering with family and friends. If Jesus is the reason for the season, we should know Christ's teachings and follow them. What we discover is that the issue of refugees is very high on Jesus' agenda. In the Great Judgment Scene in Matthew's gospel, Jesus presents us with six issues that will concern him on the Last Day. The first three are these, "I was hungry and you gave me food. I was thirsty and you gave me drink. I was a stranger, and you welcomed me." Jesus puts out treatment of those who displaced right up there with food and drink. This makes welcoming refugees central to our responsibilities.

Like, many I hope, I was deeply saddened by the political gamesmanship of the Governor of Texas, a Catholic I am told, for delivering hundreds of refugees from Texas to the front door of the home of the Vice President on Christmas Eve. Using refugees as political pawns cries out for justice. We can do so much better, Our faith demands so much better.

This same commitment to welcome the stranger applies to those who we would choose in our time to judge or condemn or push away from our table and hearts due to the newest group or persons we have chosen to reject. I think of the members of the LGBT+ community. How can we be so hostile to these our brothers and sisters and reject those we know so little about. Did you know that the word "homosexual" did not enter European and western vocabulary until the end of the 19th Century. Same sex orientation is a great mystery and has been present from the beginning of recorded history. Why would we not as loving people, as our faith requires, presume goodness instead of condemnation. People for the most part are good and trying to find their way in life.

Have you been around long enough to remember when we condemned divorce and rejected the divorced as a mandate of our faith? When in time of great stress and personal difficulty we should be supportive and caring, we have done the opposite.

The same applied to people of other faith traditions; judgment with such little knowledge. Approaching life as if our way is the only way will create a world isolated and lonely. Christ invites us to open our eyes to the wonders all around us, people on a different road but holy and beautiful nonetheless. The flight of the Holy Family continues in our world today.

Happy New Year!

Fr. Bill

Parish Registration and Database Update

We are delighted that you are already a registered member of St. Augustine's or considering to be a registered member of our Parish.

Often people attend Mass at a parish for months or sometimes years, but never officially register. Registering at St. Augustine Church is the expression of your commitment to being part of our parish community. Being a registered parishioner also makes the process much simpler when it is time for receiving sacraments, registering for faith formation (religious education), sponsoring a sacrament recipient, and even planning funerals. A registered parishioner also receives all parish communications (emails, text messages, and postal messages).

If you have registered in the past, we ask you to kindly re-register so that our records are up-to-date.

Registration Forms can be completed online at www.staugustinecleveland.org/parish-registration or by completing the Registration Forms found on the table at each entrance and returning it to the parish office.

On the Lighter Side

Two older men in a retirement village were chatting: "How do you really feel? I mean, you're 75 years old, how do you honestly feel?" The other one answered: "Honestly, I feel like a newborn baby. I've got no hair, no teeth, and I just peed myself."

Solemnity of Mary- January 1, 2024

Monday, January 1st is not only New Year's Day but also the Solemnity of Mary. Usually it is a Holy Day of Obligation, but because the Holy Day falls on a Monday in the New Year of 2024 the obligation to come to Mass on January 1st is lifted. So, we will only have one Mass on Monday, January 1st at 10:00 am (There will not be a 5:30 pm Mass)

Parenting Tune-Up

How will you celebrate today, the last day of 2023? Why not gather the family and remember the joys of the year (birthdays, accomplishments, milestones) and sorrows (deaths, hurts, mistakes).? End with a group hug and affirmations of loving support.

Relationship Tune-Up

We humans mark time with watches and calendars. As we start a new year, however, perhaps it would be meaningful today, to enter into a conscious NOW with your beloved. As you read this, pause, find your loved one, and look at each other tenderly. Ponder the goodness of being together. Embrace.

Faith and Reflections

Our Parish School of Religion for children in Pre-K thru 8th will resume next Sunday, January 7th from 9:30 AM to 10:30 AM.

Is God calling you to invite someone you know who is searching for a deeper faith in God to explore becoming Catholic?

The Church prepares adults for Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist through a process called Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA). The RCIA is designed to form the mind and heart in Christian discipleship through study of the basics of the Catholic faith, prayer and fellowship. If any of these are true for you or someone you know, then you are invited to contact the parish office to learn more and to register to join our RCIA group.

Cursillistas gather for Ultreya on Saturday, January 13th at 10 AM. Cursillistas are invited to gather, pray, and share personal stories about living a life in God's Grace on the second Saturday of every month.

Pray the Rosary

We invite you to join us every Monday through Friday at 6 PM in Church as we pray the rosary. If you are unable to join us in person, we encourage you to join us on our live-stream

Can You See Salvation in Your Own Jerusalem...?

Her grace and courage in dealing with her illness was an inspiration to all of you. Oh, it was rough when the diagnosis was first determined but she soon found a measure of peace — and gratitude. And your entire family came together to help her make her last days especially happy ones. Yes, she's missed terribly but the memory of your time with her strengthened your bond as a family. In your loved one's spirit of gratitude and peace, in the hope manifested in her courage, you have seen the salvation of God . . .

Losing your job was devastating. The career you worked so hard to establish was derailed, if not lost altogether. But your first boss who became a mentor called immediately and guided you through that difficult time. Her perspective and advice were invaluable. You found a new position and re-established your career — wiser and humbler as a result. In your mentor's care and support, her wisdom and experience, you have seen the salvation of God . . .

Something had to be done. This situation could not go on any longer. But those in charge dropped the ball; those responsible were not up to the challenge. So you made some calls. Can we fix this? you asked. Yeah, we can, they all replied. So you all put your individual interests in check and focused on the greater good — and a plan was put in place that made things better without subjecting anyone to suspicion or embarrassment. The good of the community was the focus. In the generosity of heart of these good folks, you witnessed the salvation of God.

You messed up big time, but forgiveness was readily offered and the opportunity to fix your error was afforded. You were pushed aside, thrown under the bus, betrayed — but someone was there to pick you up. In your grief, in your loss, in your brokenness, someone was there to help you put your life back together. In these good folks, you witnessed the salvation of God.

If we're willing to look around our own Jerusalems with eyes of faith, if we can refocus our vision on the good in our tumultuous lives, we can see the "salvation" of God in our midst: God "saves" us from our self-centeredness when a child or elderly parent calls out to us for help; God "saves" us from despair by enabling us to do good and meaningful things with the abilities and resources we possess; God "saves" us from a sense of "deadness" by revealing his compassion in the forgiveness we seek and give. Behold, as the faithful Simeon realizes, the many signs of salvation in our own lives, the many cracks in our overwhelmingly busy days when the light of God's love manages to break through, the many small resurrections we experience when the Spirit of God lifts us out of our hurt and brokenness.

7 UPS FOR THE NEW YEAR

- 1) WAKE UP: Begin the day thanking the Lord. It is His day. Rejoice in it.
  - 2) LOOK-UP: Open your eyes to the Lord. Ask for His strength and blessings for the day. After all, He is your only Savior.
  - 3) DRESS-UP: Put on a smile. It improves your looks. It says something about your attitude. It enables Jesus living within you smile at others.
  - 4) SHUT-UP: Watch your tongue. Don't gossip. Don't be judgmental. Say nice things. Learn to listen to others with love. Be sympathetic.
  - 5) STAND-UP: Take a stand for what you believe. Resist evil. Do good. Have courage of your Christian convictions by practicing your beliefs
  - 6) REACH-UP: Spend time in prayer by talking to God and by listening to Him
  - 7) LIFT-UP: Be available to help those in need--serving, supporting, and sharing. Try to find Jesus in others and serve him who lives in others.

Supreme Court's Advice To Families!

"Make the family a confessional rather than a court room." A senior Judge of the Supreme Court recently congratulated the bride and groom in a marriage with a pertinent piece of advice: "See that you never convert your family into a court room; instead let it be a confessional. If the husband and wife start arguing like attorneys, in an attempt to justify their behavior, their family becomes a court of law and nobody wins.

On the other hand, if the husband and the wife -- as in a confessional -- are ready to admit their faults and try to correct them, the family becomes a heavenly one."
