2024 Lenten Obligations

The days of both fast and abstinence are Ash Wednesday and Good Friday

The other Fridays of Lent are days of abstinence.

Fasting means to limit oneself to one full meal with two smaller meals which together do not equal the size of your full meal.

The obligation of fasting applies only to Catholics between the ages of 18 and 59.

Abstinence means to abstain from eating meat. The obligation of abstinence applies to all Catholics who have reached the age of 14.

Love Without Measure...

Three of our gospels tell us that at the beginning of Jesus' ministry, he spent forty days in the wilderness. Matthew, Mark and Luke all tell us that during that time in the wilderness he was tempted by the devil. Although three gospels report the event, there are interesting differences in the way that they present the story. Matthew and Mark both tell us that angels ministered to Jesus in the desert. But they disagreed about when the angels come. In Matthew's account, Jesus goes into the desert, fasts for forty days, is hungry, Satan comes, they debate with one another. Jesus tells Satan to leave, and then the angels come and minister to him. But in Mark's account, we are simply told that Jesus was in the desert with the devil and angels ministered to him. In Matthew's account, the angels come after Satan leaves. In Mark's account the angels are with Jesus all during the temptation.

So which account is right? I would suggest that both are, but in different ways. Each of these gospels captures a specific aspect of our relationship to Christ. Angels are God's presence and comfort us. These two gospels tell us that God is certainly present to us after the temptation ends, but they also assure us that God is with us even as the testing unfolds.

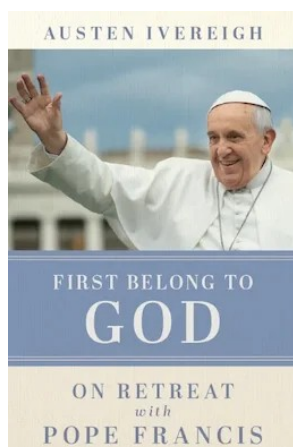

Whenever we experience some difficulty in our life, whenever there is a trial that we have to face, it makes perfect sense for us to look forward to that day when the trial is over. When the forty days are done, we can celebrate our survival and give glory to God. These are the angels to which Matthew points, the angels that come to us after a successful trial has been completed.

When these angels arrive, we are able to claim God's love and presence with us in gratitude. Mark points to different angels. His angels are with us in the very midst of trial. Mark's gospel tells us that God does not wait to come to us until Satan leaves, but is with us as we face the difficulties of life. Now, of course, Mark's angels are more difficult to recognize. It is easy to recognize God's presence with us once the trial is over, once the pain has subsided. But, it takes real faith for us to see the angels who are with us even as we suffer, even as we struggle.

When we have to face a difficult task, studying for a school exam, interviewing for a job, going through medical tests, anticipating surgery, or working on some big project that we feel will overwhelm us, it makes perfect sense to look forward to that time when the job is successfully completed and we kick back and resume life as usual. When we reach that point, it is natural and rather easy to thank God for being with us. But it is also important to remember that God is with us no matter what we face or how we struggle or in the times we fail. God is with us even as we face those difficult and disappointing times; we can count on God's grace filled presence that can be transformative in our lives if we are open to it. It is crucial for us to remember that God is also with us in the midst of the turmoil and doubt, giving us the patience and wisdom to keep moving forward for as long as it takes.

No one likes to face the devil. It makes sense that we look forward to that day we can leave the desert, when our trial will be over. But today's gospel tells us that God does not wait to come to us until the devil leaves. From the minute we enter into the desert trials of our lives, God sends angels to walk the sands with us.

Pope Francis's concern for migrants and refugees, his focus on ecology, his calls to go out and share the good news, even his support for the controversial possibility of informally blessing LGBTQ couples flow from his conviction that people need to know they belong to God, to one another and to creation.

"All the life-threatening crisis that beset us around the world from the ecological crisis to the wars, the injustices against the poor and vulnerable, have their roots in the rejection of our belonging to God and to each other."

An excerpt from Pope Francis' forward to Austen Ivereigh's latest book, First Belonging to God: On retreat with Pope Francis. A book released on February 13

On the Lighter Side

Struggling to make ends meet on a first-call salary, the Minister of a church angrily confronted his wife who bought a $250 dress: "How could you do this?!" "I was outside the store looking at the dress in the window, and then I found myself trying it on," she explained. "It was like Satan was whispering in my ear, 'You look fabulous in that dress. Buy it!'" "Well," the Minister replied, "You know how I deal with that kind of temptation. I say, 'Get behind me, Satan!'" "I did," replied his wife, "but then Satan said, 'It looks fabulous from back here, too!'" So I bought it!

The Handbell Choir will practice this Monday at 6:30pm in the church, and we are looking for more members! If you like to have some fun and meet some new people, this is for you! We will meet on Monday evenings through March, with our initial performance on Sunday, March 10th.

The Desert

There are many biblical images that can inspire us during the season of Lent. The image I find most helpful when thinking about lent is the desert. The 40 days of Lent for us mirror Jesus 40 days in the desert. The number 40 is a very special number biblically. We have Jesus' 40 days in the desert, That is intentional by the evangelists to reflect the ancient Israelite experience of 40 years wandering in the wilderness with Moses as they experience the graces and challenges of their exodus from Egypt.

Jesus goes into the desert immediately after his baptism in Mark's gospel. It is very poignant. The text reads that Jesus is driven- in other translations the word is "compelled" – to go into the desert, where he prays and fasts and gives alms in the generosity of his prayers. Jesus so embodies these three spiritual practices that we are invited to do the same during Lent.

Jesus also experiences trials, many trials in the desert. The only biblical account of an explicit encounter with Satan is during this time. And that is very powerful. For although we believe Jesus was sinless, like us, he was tempted by the devil's empty promises. And so are we over a lifetime. Life experience and the maturity of our faith help us identify the truth more quickly and not to be fooled by promises that are too good to be true.

A Prayer in Troubled Times

Several years ago, when our country was experiencing yet another epidemic of gun violence, the United States bishops offered this prayer. During this Lenten season, may we begin each day meeting in prayer for peace:

O Lord our God,
in your mercy and kindness,
no thought of ours is left unnoticed,
no desire or concern ignored.
You have proven that blessings abound
when we fall on our knees in prayer,
And so we turn to you in our hour of need.
Surrounded by violence and cries for justice,
we hear your voice telling us what is required:
'Only to do justice and to love goodness,
and to walk humbly with your God (Micah 6, 8).'

Fill us with your mercy so that we, in turn,
may be merciful to others.
Strip away pride, suspicion, and racism
so that we may see peace and justice in our communities.
Strengthen our hearts so that they beat only to the rhythm of your holy will.
Flood our path with your light as we walk humbly toward a future filled with encounter and unity.
Be with us, O Lord, in our efforts,
for only by the prompting of your grace
can we progress toward virtue.
We ask this through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Movie Night

We will have a movie night on Thursday, February 29th at 6:00 pm in Walsh Hall featuring Ruby Bridges.

Ruby Bridges is based on the true story of Ruby Bridges, one of the first black students to attend integrated schools in New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1960. As a six-year-old, Bridges was one of four black first graders, selected on the basis of test scores, to attend previously all-white public schools in New Orleans. Three students were sent to McDonogh No. 19 Elementary School, and Ruby was the only black child to be sent to William Frantz Elementary School.

This film reminds us how the NAACP chose her; how four US Marshalls kept back the angry mob bent on lynching her; how a courageous white teacher pushed back against racist superiors and coworkers; and most of all, how her courageous mother, shared the deep faith that gave Ruby the strength to persist in spite of the hatred around her.
